Summary:

On July 13, 2025, San Antonio Police officers were dispatched to 1515 N. New Braunfels Ave. for a burglary of a vehicle in progress. The caller reported that an unknown male (the decedent) had climbed into the bed of her pickup truck and was attempting to steal the refrigerator from the vehicle. When the officers arrived, they found the decedent in the bed of the pickup truck, pushing on the refrigerator. Officers gave the decedent commands to exit the pickup truck's bed. The decedent did, and the officers placed him in handcuffs to ascertain the situation. No force was used on the decedent. The officers then placed the decedent in the back seat of a patrol vehicle and drove to a nearby parking lot to move out of the roadway. Officers requested EMS due to the decedent’s behavior and believing he was on narcotics. The officers opened the door to the patrol vehicle and set the decedent upright. During this time, the decedent stopped interacting with the officers. The officers laid the decedent down, then removed him from the patrol vehicle. EMS arrived and attempted emergency care; however, the decedent was pronounced by EMS.
